

Successful food donation by German adoptive parents and friends of Animal Protection with the support of VETO

In a wonderful and heartwarming campaign, German adopters and friends of the Animal Protection organization facilitated a significant donation of food, which was transported to the Greek island of Aegina through the logistical support of VETO. This generous donation has made a lasting difference to the lives of many dogs in our shelter, providing them with a much-needed supply of food.

Thanks to the support of German adopters and friends, a large quantity of high-quality dog food was collected and provided. Thanks to the great commitment and coordination of VETO, the food was transported safely and efficiently to Piraeus. We only had to provide the transportation to the island.

The picture on site was heart-warming: numerous dogs who, thanks to the food donation, were finally getting their fill again and enjoying the fresh, nutritious food. The dogs appeared visibly happier and healthier, which not only significantly improved their quality of life, but also took a little weight off the shoulders of the dedicated animal welfare workers on site.

The Animal Protection crew on site in Aegina were deeply touched and grateful: “This donation is a huge blessing for our dogs. It is incredible to see how much support comes from outside and how much our animals benefit from it. We are immensely grateful to the German adopters and friends and to VETO for their generosity and support.”

The collaboration between the adopters, friends, VETO and Animal Protection has once again shown how much can be achieved when people come together and work for the welfare of animals. The successful handover and distribution of the food will ensure that the dogs on Aegina are well cared for in the coming weeks and months.

We would like to thank everyone involved for their great support and hope that this successful campaign will inspire many more people to do their bit to improve the lives of animals in need.

Further relief efforts are planned for next year to ensure the long-term care of the dogs on Aegina and to ensure that they receive the care and food they need.

Your Team from Animal Protection